The Social Competency Model: Teaching Social Competencies, More Than Social Skills

In this webinar, Michelle Garcia Winner, the founder of Social Thinking, discussed Social Thinking's Social Competency Model and how many individuals with social competency challenges struggle with far more than learning social skills. She demonstrated how Social Thinking's core frameworks and vocabulary serve as a basis for focusing on relevant social information to guide individuals toward more effective social interpretation, problem solving, and capacity for socially responding. Michelle also discussed relevant research supporting Social Thinking's evidence-based practices, as well as how to use the Social Competency Model to ensure you're teaching deeply.
