

Certificate of Completion

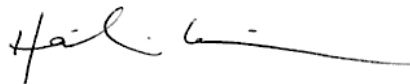

Social Thinking Webinar

Whole Body Listening: #5 in Our Series of 10 Core Concepts

In this webinar, Social Thinking founder Michelle Garcia Winner explored why the concept whole body listening is essential for collaborative engagement, relationship development, and peer-based group work. She shared how to teach this concept, developed by Susanne Poulette Truesdale, to students (including with typically developing kids) and which Social Thinking products offer lessons and activities to expand your teaching of it. She also reviewed how all five Social Thinking Vocabulary concepts introduced through the first five webinars can be used in tandem across different situations, and why applying them in order is important.

- 90 minutes, or 1.5 contact hours, of instruction
- Original webinar took place Dec. 11, 2018; the recording is available to be watched any time at www.socialthinking.com/webinars

Participant

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to read "Heidi Winner".

Heidi Winner, Webinar Coordinator